

Holroyd Components Ltd. - Quality Policy

“Using our technical and manufacturing expertise to provide industries with unique purpose-built heating solutions”

Holroyd Components Ltd. aims to provide exceptional service to our customers and partners through continuous improvement and operational excellence, working with customers to achieve and manufacture bespoke heating solutions.

We proudly uphold the highest levels of quality in all of our products and services.

To achieve these high standards we set internal objectives ensuring the workforce is working in unison to service and progress each area of the business in a common direction. Through engaging with our employees, customers, supply partners, and other stakeholders, we ensure that our commitment is delivered.
